Subject: New forest plan

Dear Forest Service,

I am in my 60s, helped two husbands cut posts and poles, cut firewood, camped, fished and picnicked up in the Range since moving to Laramie at age 13. While I can see the need for careful selective cutting in areas that were clearcut and are now growing in thickets of whips, the plan you are proposing would cause more devastation than the clear-cutting Brandt and Wicklund did throughout the middle of the last century and from which some areas of the forest are still trying to recover.

I beg you to adopt the 'do nothing' option. We gain more in tourist and local use of a vibrant forest than we can ever get from industrialized logging.

Sincerely,
Pam Mathewson
